

News & Media

Bin Zahim Recedes and Shiites Refuse to Step Down

A Saudi lawyer Sultan bin Zahim, the Chairman of Lawyers Committee in the Chamber of Commerce and Industry in Madinah west of Saudi Arabia, has receded from his tweet in which he had insulted Shiites by claiming that they are children of...

More

An Ismaili Statement Calls for Incriminating Discrimination

A group of the Ismaili sect followers in Najran, in the southern region of Saudi Arabia, called for enacting laws that criminate any verbal or physical abuse against any citizen in Saudi Arabia within a statement signed by a large number of Ismaili...

More

AlMajed Enters His Second Year of Arbitrary Detention

Nadeer AlMajed, a well-known Shiite writer, had entered his second year of arbitrary detention in the General Intelligence Prison in Dammam after being accused of participating in protest marches in Qatif, east of Saudi Arabia. AlMajed had...

More

Religious Leaders and Activists Call for Applying the Punishment

Many socially effective sides in Saudi Arabia called for raising a lawsuit against the lawyer Sultan bin Zahim, the Chairman of Lawyers Committee in the Chamber of Commerce and Industry in Madinah. Through his account on Twitter, bin Zahim...

More

Sheikh AlSaffar Condemns Assaulting Citizens' Dignity for Sectarian Reasons

Sheikh Hasan AlSaffar, a prominent Saudi Shiite religious leader, has condemned the assaults by radical individuals in one of Saudi satellite channels against the Ismaili sect in Najran, south of Saudi Arabia, and their accusation to the sect's leader...

More

Saudi Arabia: Stop Arbitrary Arrests, Travel Bans on Opposition

Saudi Arabia should end the arbitrary detention and travel bans inflicted on those who peacefully exercise their freedom of speech or assembly, Human Rights Watch said today. Several intellectuals remain in detention one year or longer for charges...

More